You should now see this box, into which you should enter the six-digit code that emailed to you, and then click “Verify”:

The image shows a verification screen for a CSS account. At the top, there is a blue circular icon with a globe and two arrows. Below it, a grey rounded rectangle contains a person icon, a white text box with a redacted email address, and the text '@gmail.com'. The main heading is 'Verify with your email'. Below that, a message states: 'We sent an email to Iv@gmail.com. Enter the verification code in the text box.' Underneath is the label 'Enter Code' followed by a large, empty white text box with a thin black border. A blue button with the text 'Verify' is positioned below the text box. At the bottom, there are two links: 'Return to authenticator list' and 'Back to sign in'.

You have now re-registered for your CSS account.
