However, the disclosure will be considered in the determination of the Contractor's responsibility and ability to perform under this Agreement. Failure of the Contractor to furnish a disclosure or provide additional information as requested will be grounds for immediate termination of this Agreement pursuant to the conditions set forth in Paragraph 7 of this Agreement.

Upon receipt of such notice, Contractor shall leave the jobsite and any equipment in a safe condition prior to departing. Contractor must assert rights to additional compensation within thirty (30) days after suspension of work is lifted and return to work is authorized. Any compensation requested for which entitlement is granted and the contract sum adjusted, shall have profit included (for work completed) and for cost only (not profit) for Contractor costs incurred directly tied to the suspension itself and not otherwise covered by Contract remedy. The Children and Youth Commission was established to assess the needs of the children and youth within the city of Santa Fe; identify and recommend to the governing body legislation, policies, and programs that promote the healthy development of young people; determine priorities for program development; advocate in the community on behalf of children and youth; and plan short- and long-range improvements for young people by applying a results-based framework, from birth through the age of 21.

The Commission works cooperatively with the Community Health and Safety Department and Youth and Family Services Division staff throughout the year and advises on how to effectively plan, coordinate, or address issues impacting children and youth in the community. The Commission has completed the process to review and recommend funding for contracting with nonprofit organizations.

Community organizations funded with Children and Youth Commission funding participate in CONNECT; a network that helps Santa Feans navigate a complex, sometimes challenging system of care. Organizations collect and track data to show the scope of our community need and our collective impact on that need.

(TB!), which offers middle school-aged girls, trans, and gender non-binary youth a community that supports taking risks, pushing boundaries, and becoming physically bold; or Teen Troupe (TT), the year-round program that specifically encourages youth to volunteer in their community.

Yearly service projections (unduplicated): Provide services to 54 participants.

17. Youth Shelters and Family Services*

Homeless Youth Project and navigation services: Deliver life-changing shelter and support for homeless, runaway, and in crisis youth. Homeless Youth Project (HYP) provides supportive services for teens and young adults residing in the Transitional Living Program (TLP) apartments and the Supportive Transitions to Adulthood through Rapid Rehousing (STAR) apartments. The goal is to offer a path to sustainable and secure independent living for homeless, runaway, and in-crisis youth in Santa Fe. Youth are provided housing for up to two years while they gain education, workforce opportunities, and life skills so they can live independently upon exit from the programs.

Yearly service projections (unduplicated): Provide services to 32 participants.

18. YouthWorks*

Counseling, work-based learning opportunities and navigation services: Provide services to assist youth in need of re-entering the education system, for exiting juvenile detention, or transitioning from being “disconnected” while being provided tutoring, family services, and workforce preparedness. YouthWorks provides opportunities for all youth and leads the way in youth reengagement through education support, job preparedness, placement, and job creation.

Yearly service projections (unduplicated): Provide services to 130 participants.

Numbers served for safety net services and navigation for the past three fiscal years is provided in the table below. Keep in mind, the COVID-19 pandemic caused significant disruptions across each of these time periods.

Numbers Served	FY20 (July 2019-June 2020)	FY21 (July 2020-June 2021)	FY22 (July 2021-June 2022)
Safety Net	21,815	7,841	11,357
Navigation	n/a	736	1,092
Total Served	21,815	8,577	12,449

- Navigation services include sending/receiving referrals and coordinating care for community members seeking assistance with services such as housing/rental assistance, utilities, food access, medical and behavioral health, domestic violence services, legal aid, and other immediate needs.
- Safety Net Services: These are the services that an agency typically does or receives funding to implement that help fulfill the agency’s mission. Some examples of safety net services include mental health treatment, youth programs to improve social-emotional learning or academic achievement, and provision of food. They are intended to reduce negative impacts of poverty and other social determinants of health.

Program Challenges in FY22

COVID-Related Issues

- Managing the positive COVID-19 rates among staff and struggling to keep optimal service delivery levels while preventing staff burn-out.
- The lingering effects of COVID-19 continue to impact mentoring programs, and those relying on volunteers. One program stated referrals for volunteers and children were at record lows.
- The pandemic has personally impacted students’ social-emotional well-being and mental health, which has exacerbated a loss of learning.
- Case management and support has gotten more intense and involved.

Staff Shortages

- Vacant positions are taking a long time to fill, or agencies report difficulty finding qualified staff and bilingual staff and many agencies had turnover.
- Finding licensed therapists is a widespread problem.

Lack of Resources

- Inflation is exacerbating the lack of affordable housing, lack of transportation, and childcare shortages and costs.
- Long wait lists/times for many services creates barriers and frustration.
- Grantees rely on multiple funding sources to cover general operations.

Data Challenges

- Some agencies had to pare down or create new ways of collecting data because of lack of support from national affiliates.
- Collection of residency and income data continues to be challenging for grantees to collect.

Innovations

Despite continued uncertainty and disruptions related to the ongoing pandemic, programs were creative and agile and able to provide needed services and resources to youth and families in Santa Fe.

Processes and Programs

Agencies continue to adapt programming, communication, and policies to better accommodate youth in uncertain times.

- Telehealth/meetings and hybrid classes continue.
- Orientation materials for new navigators were created, inclusion of more Spanish-language signage and materials, and hosting resource days for families and clients allowed agencies to expand their scopes.

Data Tracking

- One program built an Access database using the RBA model to align data collection and reporting processes.
- Survey formats and questions were restructured.

Staff Wellness

Agencies prioritized staff wellness and retention as a method to counteract the stress and turnover they were experiencing.

- One staff wellness program includes time away, debriefing sessions, weekly mindful activities, and check-ins, added personnel benefits, and embracing joy, pleasure, and laughter in our day-to-day work life.
- Upaya Zen Center is now joining us monthly to center mindfulness and rest during the workday. We partnered with Isabel Ribe to provide a “Caring for the Caregiver” support circle for our BIPOC staff following the tragedy in Uvalde, TX.
- Adjusting schedules according to teachers’ requests helped address burnout and building in more breaks and mental health checks with a licensed mental health counselor present.

Collaboration

- Relationships remain central to the work of connecting youth and families to an array of services and supports (food, financial support, behavioral health, clothes, in-school support for tutoring, bullying, and more).

Early Childhood

Why “turn the curve” on Pre-K Enrollment?

- Preschool teaches children how to be learners, helps children develop social skills and self-regulation skills, and nurtures their creativity and curiosity. Preschool builds early literacy, foundational math, and language skills necessary for success in school. Children who enter kindergarten ready to learn perform better throughout school and complete more years of education. A more educated society means higher incomes, less poverty, and less crime.

Supplemental Education

High School Graduation

Why turn the curve on graduation rates?

A high school diploma or GED is a standard requirement for most employers and for higher education opportunities. Home and school environments impact a student's likelihood of graduating from school (i.e. parent involvement, school climate and connection, having teachers who believe they will be a success). Dropping out of high school is linked with several negative outcomes later in life including limited employment prospects, low wages, and poverty.¹

Youth Wellness

Substance Use

Why turn the curve on youth substance use?

New Mexico youth often have the highest drug use in the nation and have the earliest initiation of alcohol and marijuana use (before age 13). Early substance use increases risk for substance-related problems later in life, damages the developing brain.

Specifically, alcohol and marijuana use in adolescent impacts the frontal lobe, prefrontal cortex, and amygdala. These parts of the brain are responsible for judgment, learning, memory, planning, and emotions.

Youth Wellness

Mental Health

Why turn the curve on youth mental health risks?

Depression and suicide ideation contribute to a high number of youth deaths in New Mexico every year. Suicide has consistently been among the top 3 causes of death among youth age 10-24 for decades. The most common mechanism is firearm, followed by suffocation/hanging.

(Living in a car, park, friend's couch, hotel, or someplace other than usual stable housing) compared to 5.2% of New Mexico High School youth. 2019 Youth Risk and Resiliency Survey

Why turn the curve on youth homelessness?

Youth who are homeless are more likely to report hopelessness and sadness, seriously considered suicide, and are 3.5 times more likely to have attempted suicide compared to youth with stable housing. Homeless youth earn lower grades in school than stably housed youth and are more likely to drop out before graduation. The chart shows the disparity in substance use among these youth.

2019 New Mexico YRRS

Opportunity Youth

Youth Ages 16-24 Not in School and Not Working

Why does turning the curve in disconnected youth matter?

According to 2020 Census data, New Mexico had the highest percentage of disconnected youth in the nation at 19.6%. Disconnected teens and young adults are cut off from the institutions, communities, and experiences that prepare them for a successful and rewarding adulthood. Youth who experience a period of disconnection as a young person can have profound effects on earnings, employment, homeownership, and health that last into one’s thirties (Measure of America 2020 & Lewis and Gluskin, Two Futures).

CYC GRANTEE REPORT REVIEWS

FY22 Q3-Q4 (January-June 2022)

Adelante

Supplemental Education - Graduation Rates

Opportunity Youth – Housing Instability

Adelante’s mission is to strengthen opportunities for the academic achievement and life success of Santa Fe children and youth experiencing homelessness. The CYC supports navigation/case management for 20 youth and their families, and services such as eviction prevention, utility payments, and academic support for 108 youth ($74,000 per year).

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Great job that SFPS Adelante enrolled and provided safety net services to 216 new clients during this reporting period, despite the fact that most referrals usually occur in the first half of the year. It is also commendable that Adelante increased considerably the number of youth and family service meetings, from 1,688 to 2,123, and the number of navigator clients, from 170 to 221, with both ongoing and new clients.
- In terms of program outcomes, it is important to recognize Adelante’s critical work in helping prevent 14 family evictions and 18 family utility disconnections, and place nine families with 24 children in housing. Lastly, it is terrific that of the 25 seniors enrolled, 19 (76%) of this high at-risk group graduated from high school and that four of the graduating seniors received the Mimi Hatch Memorial Scholarship!
- It is good to hear that SFPS Adelante case managers are finding the Unite Us platform helpful for seeing what other community services clients are receiving and the Evaluation and Social Determinants of Health Screenings to be useful tools for informing their work with clients.
- It was great to meet with you, Michelle, in April and we look forward to working with the new staff as they come on board. Please let us know if we can help with these transitions, particularly by reviewing data collection and reporting procedures with new staff. We wish the Adelante program all the best with the upcoming staff transitions. Lastly, we would like to thank the outgoing program coordinator and early childhood specialist for their amazing work with the program and we wish them all the best in their future endeavors.

At the April 27th meeting (2022), we decided to eliminate the attendance measure because there is no way to capture this except going through each record in PowerSchool. Maybe think about how this might be captured down the road.*

Big Brothers Big Sisters

Supplemental Education – An adult believes I will be a success

BBBS’ mission is to create and support one-to-one mentoring relationships that ignite the power and promise of youth. The CYC supports the development and nurturing of these relationships through mentoring services with 125 youth, and navigation for 15 youth with social needs ($50,000 per year).

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Despite continued staff turnover, it’s great that the BBBS team continued to support and improve existing matches.
- The strengthening of your partnership with SFPS sounds promising for serving more youth in the upcoming school year.
- Congratulations on being selected to host the OJJDP event and for receiving a grant from the Starbucks Foundation to support your justice, equity, inclusion, and diversity work.
- Please let us know if we can help orient your new program specialist, particularly in reviewing data collection and reporting procedures with them.
- Hopefully the new BBBS data platform and new Level 4 measures will be a good way to track progress over time.

Breakthrough Santa Fe

Supplemental Education – Graduation Rates, Involvement in hobbies, and Having an adult who believes they will be a success

Breakthrough supports motivated public middle school students whose identities have historically been excluded from higher education. The program provides tutoring and assistance in applying for college and scholarships over a six-year period with each student. The CYC supports in-person summer programming, tutoring, and workshops on college applications and FAFSA completion for at least 48 youth and/or families ($27,000 per year).

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Congratulations for having 34 of your 35 12th grade students graduate from high school this year, of whom 89% will be attending college and 13 attending colleges out of state as Davis New Mexico Scholars, plus one attending Princeton on a full ride scholarship!
- Kudos to Breakthrough Santa Fe for offering both online and in-person tutoring, as well as one-on-one meetings and in-person workshops. We recognize how disrupting and work intensive it can be to offer both options, and that adjusting back to “regular” schedules can be exhausting for students and staff alike!
- The action research projects done as part of the Super Saturday curriculum sound like a fantastic idea. Is there something you can share with us about this initiative – we would love to learn more about it!
- Breakthrough’s plans for re-examining the curriculum and thinking of ways to address the critical teacher shortage in New Mexico are important efforts.

Communities in Schools

Supplemental Education – Graduation rates, an adult believes I will be a success, Habitual truancy

Communities in Schools surrounds students with a community of support, empowering them to stay in school and achieve in life. The CYC provides $50,000 per year to support site coordinators to provide 150 individuals/families with navigation to the services and supports they need. This includes schoolwide support such as tutoring, and family assistance as appropriate, and targeted support to address students' social-emotional wellbeing.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Congrats on the steep increase in supporting 135 families through navigation services, as well as the additional 112 new students receiving case management.
- Kudos on increasing slightly the percentage of youth progressing toward attendance goals and the significant increase in the percentage of youth progressing toward language arts goals. It is important to note the slight decrease in the two other outcome measures; however, because these declines are so small they are most likely not statistically significant.
- It is commendable the way in which CIS continued to help students and their families navigate the challenging results of the pandemic. It is important to acknowledge that this was done by building strong and supportive relationships with students, families, school staff and community agency partners, as well as by intensifying case management efforts.
- The story of Anthony, as a Carson Honor Society awardee, illustrates, once again, the critical role CIS plays in helping youth not only complete school but do well in school and in other parts of their lives.

Community Educators Network

Supplemental Education – Resiliency – Involvement in hobbies

The Santa Fe Community Educators Network (CEN) was founded on the belief that partnerships can address community needs when aligned with common goals. The CYC supports afterschool and in-school programming for 185 elementary age students, offering a variety of alternative educational experiences and hands-on learning ($37,000 per year).

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Congrats on the 243 children participating in your summer programming. We look forward to seeing your outcome measures at the end of the program in late August.
- It is great that CEN continued to collaborate with the SFPS, public libraries and the City of Santa Fe Summer Recreation program. Also, kudos to CEN staff for adapting and being responsive to the changing needs of your partners, particularly due to the ongoing pandemic.

Cooking with Kids

Supplemental Education – Resiliency – Involvement in hobbies

Cooking with Kids educates and empowers children and families to make healthy food choices through hands-on learning with fresh, affordable foods. The CYC grant provides $20,000 per year to reach at least 200 children with in school and virtual classes that teach cooking, basic reading, and math, as well as geography and social studies.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- It is notable that CWK provided an additional 12 classrooms and 77 students with nutrition education in the second half of this year, while continuing to work with the 191 classrooms and 3870 students from the first half of the year.
- Regarding program outcomes (as shown in the table below), it's highly commendable that 95% of the 136 teachers surveyed agreed that CWK provides hands-on engaging programming and 93% agreed that CWK will increase students' awareness of healthy eating. Equally exciting are the qualitative responses of teachers, principals, parents, and students extolling the benefits and their appreciation of CWK.

- Kudos for administering the principal and teacher surveys and using the findings to fine-tune the program, so as to better meet the needs of students, families, and teachers.
- We wish CWK all the best working with its first early childhood education school and expanding its work with school gardens. Please let us know if we can help with the data collection and reporting of these new activities, as well as with the orientation of newly hired staff.

Esperanza Shelter

Youth Wellness - Depression

Esperanza provides shelter to those threatened by domestic violence and supports healthy relationships. The CYC funds shelter and navigation for 37 families for $37,000 annually. (Are they continuing with the Seeds of Hope or Life Skills programs?)

FY22 Q3-Q4

- It is great the Esperanza was able to strengthen staff collaboration and increase wrap-around services, despite challenges with staff vacancies. The collaboration with the Sky Center and Solace sounds like good alternatives so that residential families can still receive therapy. The partnerships with the Boys and Girls Club and Big Brothers, Big Sisters, and other programs is a great way to improve relationships and connections to the community among youth in your services. Good job.
- We have heard from other agencies that long wait lists for services are creating frustration.
- At our meeting June 21st (with Natalie & Arianna from Aspen and Christa from the City) we decided that Camille would count all the family units toward the CYC grant (moving forward in FY23) and individuals would be counted toward HSC. Esperanza decided to try keeping each family unit attached to one funding stream (HSC or CYC).

Fathers New Mexico

Opportunity Youth – Youth not in school and not working

Fathers New Mexico helps young men become great fathers. The CYC funds mentoring and navigation for 20 young parents to help increase life skills, independence, and healthy relationships with $30,100 per year.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Kudos to FNM for nearly doubling (from 7 to 13) new clients in the second half of the year, as well as significantly increasing from 20 to 30 the navigator’s caseload and number of clients.
- It is great to see from FNM’s new tracking system that eight out of 13 (62%) families are meeting their short-term and long-term goals, and that the remaining five families are still working toward achieving their own goals.
- Increased collaboration with both new and old partners to identify and reach more young parents is a great idea. It’s unfortunate that, as a result of the pandemic, it is still exceedingly difficult to reach young parents through the schools.
- Best wishes to the new peer navigation contractors. Please let us know if we can assist with their orientation, or help in any other way, with FNM’s data collection and reporting efforts. Also, when convenient for you, we would like to hear how it’s going with the new tracking system and to discuss FNM’s existing indicators.

Gerard's House

Youth Wellness – Depression and Suicide

Gerard's House is a center for grieving kids and families. They provide individual and group grief support and acceptance for youth experiencing loss, separation, or death and provide safe spaces for them to connect with themselves and others. The CYC awarded Gerard's House $80,000 per year for navigation for 15 people and safety net services for 100 people to implement grief support and Nuestra Jornada groups with Spanish-speaking youth and their families.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Gerard's house exceeded all numbers served for grief support and navigation and continued to refine programming and processes. Well done! Being able to start six new groups this spring shows the strong relationships GH has built with the schools and community partners.
- The thoughtful responsiveness to family needs that Gerard's House displays through offering gift cards for basic needs, including families in grief support sessions, and assistance with ERAP applications is so impressive and deeply appreciated.
- The increases in students saying the group has helped them is very encouraging and we are excited to hear about how the new survey roll-out goes this fall.
- The guidance Gerard's House is giving to Ohkay Owingeh's School Advisory Board is so exciting. It is fulfilling to hear that the wisdom and lessons learned from Nuestra Jornada are being carried on to new communities in need.
- Congratulations to Nicole and Maggie on your leadership positions :o)
- Your beautiful reflection and celebration of one girl's journey through her grief, and your ability to listen and appreciate the depth of your work was so touching. Incorporating the core principles of Gerard's House was a great way to remind yourself (and us) of the vision of your organization, and how all of you are making it a reality.

Girls Inc of Santa Fe

Supplemental Education – Resiliency

Youth Wellness – Depression and Substance use

Girls Inc encourages girls to be strong, smart, and bold through life-skills and leadership education. The CYC $40,000 to reach 600 girls with an array of programming for girls in schools with high percentages of students receiving free and reduced lunch and navigation for 20 people. They aim to improve graduation rates, depression, and substance use among their girls.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- It is highly commendable that Girls Inc. of Santa Fe well surpassed its annual target of 600 by 944 girls served in general programming. In addition, Girls Inc. met its annual goal of 20 girls served with navigation services, despite navigation services not necessarily fitting with Girls Inc program model or the needs of most clients. This is particularly impressive, given the continuing COVID pandemic conditions and the low number of staff.
- As seen in the outcome data table below, the survey results are impressive, where 97% of the girls surveyed reported knowing how to prevent themselves from getting pregnant, 76% reported having an adult who can help when they are having a hard time, and 71% said they had never drunk any type of alcohol. In addition, all participants continued to be promoted on time to the next grade level and all navigation clients reported improved circumstances.
- It is great that Girls Inc. of Santa Fe was able to conduct an in-house survey, despite the national organization not being able to assist due to staff shortages. Should the national level not be able to assist Girls Inc. of Santa Fe in the future, please feel free to ask Aspen Solutions for any help needed.
- As you bring on more staff, please let us know if we can assist with their orientation or help in any other way with Girls Inc.'s data collection and reporting efforts.

Growing Up New Mexico

Early Childhood – Pre-K Enrollment & Kindergarten Readiness

Growing Up New Mexico works on structural change to improve the lives of kids and families. They are building a pipeline for professional home-based care and a vibrant early learning center. The CYC provides $80,000 for the Bridges to Opportunity navigators to work with 102 families of children in their pre-K or other programs to access the resources they need to raise thriving children.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Your report looks really good. It is so exciting to see how you have grown the Bridges to Opportunity program; having five coaches with a caseload of 15 each and serving 147 children and 79 family members is really impressive! Keep us informed about how the Access data tracking system is going. We are thrilled that you developed this innovation. It might be something other programs would be interested in seeing and/or using.
- Thank you for all your work with children and families, and your interest in creating more efficient data processes.

New Vistas

Early Childhood – Pre-K Enrollment & Kindergarten Readiness

New Vistas partners with and supports people with disabilities and families of children with special needs to enrich their quality of life in New Mexico. The CYC provides $20,000 to support safety net services for 50 youth/families to increase their development and functioning, and to help get them ready for school.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- New Vistas saw an increase in referrals as COVID infections reduced this winter/spring and they served 316 children with family therapy, nutrition, occupational and physical therapy, early intervention, speech and language, and other social work services. They had a higher percentage of children increasing social-emotional and language/communication skills than previous years.
- Kudos to New Vistas for making so many rich trainings available to your staff. Congratulations on hiring a Bilingual Family Service Coordinator, and we hope you find stellar candidates for your other open positions. Other grantees have mentioned having a hard time filling open positions too.
- Hopefully the new cloud-based system will help all New Vistas staff with organization and access to files whether they are working remotely or in the office.
- Your data looks great, but please let us know if you have any questions or would like to adjust anything in your report for this new fiscal year. Thank you for all of the critical work you do with children and families in our community.

Parent Involvement Program

Supplemental Education – Resiliency

The Parent Involvement Program through the Santa Fe Public Schools works with students at risk for dropping out or who have been referred for discipline issues. The CYC funds two cohorts to complete the program (based off the Strengthening Families curriculum) for $10,000 per year ($5,000 per cohort).

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Good job getting the PIP program up-and-running amidst school closures, remote learning, and the chaos of everyone coming back to school after the pandemic. It sounds like your two facilitators hit the ground running to get three cohorts completed during the spring semester. The collaboration with Teen Court sounds like a smart way to get referrals and provides an incentive for youth and parent participation. The qualitative data provided in the report help show some of the positive outcomes participants reported.
- Let's find a time to meet soon to talk about the process of collecting and recording pre/posttests so that we can make the process efficient for your facilitators. We also would like to identify a few of the pre/post measures for your CYC outcome measures (rather than combining the total pre/post test scores. We were thinking of selecting one or two of the pre/post items such as (clear consequences for using substance, healthy ways of dealing with stress, or making plans toward a goal).
- The PIP had budget reductions and they had to cut their staff in half (from 4 to 2). It is great that Teen Court can refer youth and families to PIP. The first cohort began when SFPS went back to remote learning, which caused some disruptions and missing pre-tests.

Restorative Justice Program

Supplemental Education – Resiliency

This program addresses conflict management, emotional intelligence, and self-regulation. The program encourages youth to “be their best” and settle grievances in a peaceful, honest way. The CYC provides $50,000 per year to reach 770 students.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- The Restorative Justice Program shone brightly again this semester and reached over 800 students with RJ circles and team building across 10 schools. It is a testament of your work to receive so many follow-up requests from the first semester and it is impressive that you were able to meet these needs and empower them to come to peaceful resolutions. Congratulations on hiring an RJ coordinator to expand the work to middle school students! There is clearly a need, and your success stories demonstrate such commitment and intentionality with the students. Thank you for this important life work you are doing with our youngsters and teachers. Clearly, the support you gave teachers during this chaotic year was highly regarded.

Santa Fe Community College Kids Campus

Early Childhood – Pre-K Enrollment & Kindergarten Readiness

Kids Campus at Santa Fe Community College is a year-round early childhood education center serving children from two months to five years old. The CYC funding usually supports a classroom, in FY22 it supported the summer program (due to uncertainties with COVID). The SFCC Kids Campus received $70,000 for a classroom (or at least 11 children).

FY22 Q3-Q4

- It is great to hear that the SFCC Kids Campus staff are reviewing and using the NMELG data to reflect and celebrate successes! Congratulations on the bilingual program starting up this fall and the re-accreditation by the National Assoc for the Education of Young Children.
- Perhaps we could look at the CYC performance measures and align them with things you will be required to collect for the NAEYC portfolios?

- We would like to check in with the SFCC staff again to review the report with staff since it was the first time most of you completed it. This will give us an idea of things we might be able to change or enhance.

Santa Fe Recovery

Youth Wellness – Housing Stability and Substance Use

Santa Fe Recovery works with individuals to sustain lifelong recovery from alcoholism, addictions, and related mental illness. The CYC program provides substance use treatment for people up to age 21, and for mothers with children under 21 participating in their in-patient treatment. Santa Fe Recovery received $40,000 per year from the CYC for 60 clients/children.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Good job exceeding your numbers for this fiscal year. SFCR saw 15 individuals age 18-21 for treatment services and 12 new children helped with navigation. It is a powerful service to allow women to bring their young children with them to treatment. It is great to hear the expanded follow-up team has been able to maintain communication and provide support to individuals who have left the program, and Infant Mental Health Specialist to help with developmental assessments and supportive parenting classes.
- What a great success story of a former client coming back to facilitate AA/NA, gaining stable housing, employment, and childcare for her daughter!

SITE Santa Fe

Supplemental Education – Resiliency

SITE’s education and public programs seek to make contemporary art accessible to a wide and diverse audience, stimulate a high level of discourse, and explore multiple perspectives of art and culture on an international scale. Through SITE’s education programs, we seek to be a platform for empowering and educating the next generation of museum professionals, artists, and advocates of art and culture. The CYC provides $35,000 for 625 youth through education opportunities with low-income schools, the KIVA (Keeping Independent Visions Alive) training program, and the Young Curators Program.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Excellent work reaching over 1,000 students and having nearly 90% say they learned something new, and 79% believe the program supports their academic success. Great partnerships are maintained in order to accomplish our work, nice job. Including Spanish-language materials and didactic is a good example of quality improvement and better serving your students.
- It is so exciting to hear the SITE will be taking part in the Pathways to Excellence SFPS’ Work-based learning program. What a great opportunity for students to learn about what it means to have a profession in the arts.
- We loved the Nani / SFMC video! Thanks for sharing all of those! :o)

Teen Parent Center

Early Childhood – Pregnant Teens & Prenatal Care in 1st Trimester Supplemental Education – Graduation Rates

The Teen Parent Program offers pregnant and parenting teens the support they need to graduate from high school and prepare them for the world through life-skills and support. The CYC provides $96,328 annually to support case management / navigation for 23 students through the Teen parent Center and safety net services to 27 youth. Their goals include helping seniors graduate, prenatal care in the 1st trimester, and showing them that an adult believes they will be a success.

FY22 Q4-Q4

- It is good to hear that the bumpy school scene leveled out a bit as the spring semester progressed. We know the chaos of coming back to school then going remote, then back in-person was draining. It sounds like your case workers figure out how to maintain some stability with your teen moms and improve their attendance and academics. This is great.
- Congratulations assisting them with prenatal care, academics, and seeing 100% of your seniors graduate. Partnerships with GRADS, Las Cumbres, and others sound like excellent support for your students.
- The data you reported looks very solid. One thing we noticed is that in the past, it looks like you used all GRADS students or all students with SNQs for “having an adult who they can go to for help.” Last year, for example, the number was 97. You can continue to look at the only students you serve with this grant, but if it is easier for some reason to pull a full report on all your students, that is acceptable too. Let us know if you have questions about that or have a preference.
- Welcome to your new bilingual navigator! Let us know if you would like to meet with us and walk through the report with them, or if we can answer any questions as they arise.

The Sky Center

Youth Wellness – Depression & Attempted Suicide

The mission of the Sky Center is to meet the challenge of youth suicide in Santa Fe and Northern New Mexico through lasting solutions that encourage resiliency, courage, connection, and hope. The CYC grant is for $75,000 to fund therapy sessions for 420 youth and their families, and navigation for 10 individuals or families to other social services.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- The Sky Center should be proud of the work done this year and seeing the very high satisfaction rates among students and parents, the decreases in depression, and prevention of return-ER visits for self-injury. Additionally, the increase in participants' sense of hopefulness is incredible. What do you think contributed to this outcome compared to previous years (FY21=61%, FY20=44%)? It sounds like you introduced specific strategies to help youth/families generate hope. This is so interesting. Perhaps coming out of the pandemic created a little sense of hope in addition to the services and support provided by you. This is powerful work.
- It is impressive that the Natural Helpers used their skills to help 527 other students!
- Congratulations on the Katz Amsterdam Foundation grant and general operating grants.
- The quotes from program participants are moving, as usual, and provide a taste of the impact and quality of your services.
- Follow-Up: Can we move toward an easier, more streamlined reporting format? Tracking and reporting data for multiple outcomes takes considerable time. What about eliminating some of the demographic data and narrative questions?

Youth Shelters

Opportunity Youth – Housing Stability and Substance Use

Youth Shelters aims to deliver life-changing shelter and support for homeless, runaway, and in-crisis youth. The CYC funding is for $100,000 to support the Homeless Youth Project providing direct service and shelter for 35 youth and navigation to 50 youth for additional social services. FY22 Q3-Q4

- The comprehensive services provided to the young people and children in your across your programs is to be commended. Despite being understaffed, YS provided service to 71 housed youth including their children. Youth Shelters has been flexible and made many adaptations during COVID that seem to serve your youth very well. The Life Skills and Case Management services seem to be great program components.
- Other programs have also mentioned concerns of rising mental health risks/anxiety among youth during/after the pandemic.
- Congratulations on finding a highly qualified navigator and hiring a landlord coordinator!
- We will eliminate the SDOH indicator from your report template since the data are not accessible from UniteUs. Please let us know if there are any indicators you would like to revisit. You do such a great job on your reports, and it is always refreshing to see the number of youth you reach.

YouthWorks

Youth Wellness – Depression

Opportunity Youth – Youth not ins school and not working

YouthWorks aims to provide opportunities for all youth and leading the way in youth re-engagement through education support, job preparedness, placement, and job creation. CYC grant is for $48,560 per year to supports navigation, case management, employment services, and client assessments for 100 youth.

FY22 Q3-Q4

- Excellent job serving 101 young people through navigation, job training, and other support services, and serving more youth than contracted by the City. It sounds like the pace of everything picked back up quickly and YW is seeing a lot more in-person visits and assessments. This is great. YouthWorks is able to provide so many services in-house, and also maintains strong partnerships across the county. This is impressive. It is great to hear that youth are finding higher-paying jobs at this time and good apprenticeship placements as well. Your data looks good, but please let us know if you would like to address any issues you are having, or any questions you have.
- Thank you for rising to meet needs as they emerge, especially the emergency meals for firefighters and evacuees. Over 70,000 meals?!?! This is something to be proud of.
- Congratulations on the new administration office building and the construction of your own commercial training kitchen! How exciting! We would love to see them both when they are completed :o)
- CHALLENGES: We are struggling with keeping data up in our own database, tracking client progress, while also entering data into Unite Us, the workload increases without a streamline process to enter data once.
